

cotne cabaurashvili

Contact information

+995 571 047 380

cotnecotne205@gmail.com

Professional summary

as i mentioned before, im hard working, communicative, speak english flunetly,can and will act-think quickly, can work under stress, i will try my hardest to satisfy the client in the terms of computer science. Software engineer with expertise in developing scalable backend services, optimizing algorithms, and implementing automated testing frameworks to enhance system performance and reliability. Skilled in API integration and refactoring legacy code to improve maintainability and reduce downtime. Committed to driving operational excellence and delivering innovative solutions that support business growth and user satisfaction.

Work Experience

software engineer, – Present

– georgia

- Developed scalable backend services that improved system uptime and ensured consistent availability for end users.
- Implemented automated testing frameworks to increase code quality and reduce defect rates during deployment cycles.
- Collaborated with cross-functional teams to integrate APIs, enhancing product functionality and customer experience.
- Optimized existing algorithms to decrease processing time, boosting overall application performance under peak loads.
- Diagnosed and resolved complex software issues promptly, minimizing downtime and maintaining operational reliability.

- Refactored legacy codebases to improve maintainability and reliability, resulting in enhanced system uptime and smoother feature deployments.

Education

Sep 2025 - Present computer science , georgia, tbilisi

- still in process of studying.

Skills

i can work well under stress, think and act quick.

im capable of speaking english well

im very communicative, which helps working with colleagues.

im very hard working, which means i will have work done by the time.

Data structures

Internships

, — Present

coolstack